Golden era of Indian Sports is here: PM

New Delhi, Aug 13 (UNI) Interacting with Indian contingent of recently concluded Commonwealth Games, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said that the golden era of India's sports is here.

"It is definitely an exciting time for the Indian sport. Your role in these successes has also been very important. But this is just the beginning. We are not going to sit quietly. Friends, the golden era of India's sports is here," the Prime Minister said.

The Prime Minister listed out India's sports achievements in the recent past and said that the entire nation is proud of the accomplishments of our athletes.

"We have done well in other tournaments as well. We have the best ever performance in the World Athletics Championship. There has also been a very commendable performance in the World Under 20 Championship. Many new records were also made in Para Badminton international tournament," he said.

Interacting with the players, Modi said that they not only win a medal for the country, but also strengthen the spirit of 'Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat'.

"You inspire the youth of the country to do better not only in sports, but also in other sectors," he said.

The Prime Minister highlighted that the country has made two major achievements in the field of sports in the last few weeks. "Besides the historic performance in the Commonwealth Games, the country has organized Chess Olympiad for the first time. Continuing its rich tradition, we did well in Chess also. I also congratulate all the medal winners," he said.

Praising India's performance at the CWG, the PM said the success achieved by the athletes will draw youth towards new sports in the country.

"As compared to last time, we have emerged victorious in four new games. From lawn bowls to athletics, there have been phenomenal performances. This performance will attract youth towards new sports," he said. He said that the performance of India's daughters was amazing- be it in boxing, judo or wrestling.

bagged 61 medals with 22 Gold, 16 Silver and 23 Bronze medals across various disciplines securing fourth position on medal tally.

This is not however, India highest tally. As per records, in 2010, India stood second in medal tally at the CWG, with 38 gold, 27 silver, and 36 bronze and an overall 101 medals.

In 2014, India was placed fifth with 64 medals and 2018 third with 66 medals.

"We have witnessed the power of tricolor in Ukraine some time ago. The tricolor had become a protective shield not only for Indians but also for people from other countries in getting out of the battlefield," he said. Modi asked the players to go to the schools and give them inspiration to do well in life.

Jaishankar reacts to B'desh stand on its One-China policy

Bengaluru, Aug 13 (UNI) On the One-China stand of Bangladesh, External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar said that the neighbouring country naturally will take decisions in their interests, but Bangladesh is a very valuable partner and India is deeply committed to fostering a relationship with it.

"Bangladesh is a sovereign country. They have their interests, they have their outlook. They will do (things) in their interest and according to their judgement. So, what I want to say is that our relations with Bangladesh are very special. They go back to the origin of Bangladesh ... For us Bangladesh is a very very valuable partner and we clearly are very deeply committed to fostering that relationship," he said replying to a related query in an interaction with PES University students here on Friday.

Jaishankar lauded the Narendra Modi-led central government for improving relations with Bangladesh which had always been a problem in the past. For instance, the land boundary agreement with Bangladesh has brought India enormous benefits in terms of creating connectivity, he said.

"They (Bangladesh) have not always been as good as they are today. There have, in the past, been problems in our relationship with Bangladesh, but if we were to look at Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 8 years of government and if somebody asks me to pick top five achievements or even top three achievements in our foreign policy, I would say the land boundary agreement that we did with Bangladesh. This has brought us enormous benefit in terms of stabilizing the boundary tensions and creating connectivity," he stated.

Due to Modi's efforts, Jaishankar said the issues of terrorism and law and order in the north-east have been put to an end and a process of transformation of the region has kickedstart.

"In putting an end to terrorism and law and order situation in the north-east, it is beginning to transform the north-east, which is good for India," he said.

Doubt if MLA Jaleel's PoK statement was with knowledge of Pinarayi Vijayan: Congress

Thiruvananthapuram, Aug 13 (IANS) A day after CPI-M backed independent MLA and former Kerala Minister K.T. Jaleel courted controversy by calling Pakistan-occupied Kashmir (PoK) "Azad Kashmir", the Congress on Saturday expressed doubts whether the remark was made with the knowledge of Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan.

Termining the remark "unacceptable", Leader of Opposition V.D. Saatheen told the media that a true Indian will never make such a statement.

"His statement is 'pro-Pakistan' and doubts are being raised if this was made with the knowledge of Pinarayi Vijayan," said Saatheen.

Jaleel was the State Higher Education Minister in the first Vijayan government from 2016-21, but though he won in the April 2021 Assembly polls, he was not made a minister.

He represents the Thavanur Assembly seat in Malappuram district and ran into trouble over his PoK Facebook post in Malayalam after a recent visit to Srinagar. "The part of Kashmir annexed to Pakistan was known as 'Azad Kashmir'. It was an area not directly influenced by the Pakistani government. Pakistan only controlled currency and military aid. Azad Kashmir had its own army. The unified army became the command army of Azad Kashmir during Zia ul Haq's presidency," his post read.

With regards to Jammu and Kashmir, he wrote: "India-occupied Jammu and Kashmir, which comprises Jammu, Kashmir valley and Ladakh".

Jaleel said Kashmir's face was not bright enough. Gun-toting soldiers everywhere. Policemen also have guns slung over their shoulders. Olive green (of the Army) is the colour of Kashmir for decades. Armed soldiers can be seen every hundred metres along there was sadness on the faces of the common people. It seems that Kashmiris have forgotten to laugh. Army trucks and military presence seem to be a part of daily life for Kashmiris," he wrote. Meanwhile, top CPI-M leader and second-in-command in the Vijayan cabinet- M.V. Govindan said the CPI-M has a clear stand on this.

"We never make such remarks and Jaleel has to explain what he meant," said Govindan.

Meanwhile, Kerala BJP president K. Surendran said he has no right to continue as a legislator as his statement on PoK as Azad Kashmir is against the country's sovereignty and should be booked for sedition.

"We can expect only such statements from a former SIMI (Students Islamic Movement of India) leader," added Surendran.

Incidentally, Jaleel began as an activist of SIMI and became a firebrand leader of the Indian Union Muslim League (IUML), but owing to differences, in 2006, he quit the IUML and joined hands with the CPI-M. He turned into a giant killer when at the 2006 Assembly polls as a Left independent candidate he trounced IUML veteran and one of its tallest leaders- P.K. Kunhalikutty and since then he won three consecutive elections. At the fag end of his Ministership in 2016, he had to quit following an adverse remark from the Lok Ayukta, but it came after the voting was done and hence it did not do any damage to his fourth straight win. Following the gold smuggling case in 2020, he was asked to appear before central agencies and the prime accused in the case Swapna Suresh said that he has conducted numerous protocol violations.

Govt does well to do away with price restrictions in the aviation sector

Considering the then economic environment, and the considerable uncertainty that the pandemic had injected in the aviation sector, some airlines did in fact support the imposition of these pricing restrictions.

In the early days of the pandemic, the Union government had imposed capacity and price restrictions on domestic airlines. While restrictions on capacity were put in place to contain the spread of Covid, from the government's point of view, the rationale to impose both price floors and ceilings was two-fold. One, to prevent a price war among the airlines so as to protect the financially weaker airlines during an economically turbulent period. And two, to prevent consumers from price gouging as airlines sought to recoup their losses during a period of demand and supply mismatches.

Over time, the government did away with the restrictions imposed on capacity — in October last year it allowed for 100 per cent capacity utilisation — but the restrictions on pricing were kept in place. On Wednesday, the civil aviation ministry announced that the last remaining restrictions on pricing will be removed with effect from the end of this month. This is a long overdue corrective.

The price restrictions, imposed in May 2020, when the airlines had resumed their operations after the two-month lock-down, were based on the duration of flights. The seven price bands ranged from Rs 2,600 for flights under 40 minutes to Rs 8,700 for flights over three hours. Last year, these prices were adjusted upwards, though marginally.

Considering the then economic environment, and the considerable uncertainty that the pandemic had injected in the aviation sector, some airlines did in fact support the imposition of these pricing restrictions. But by intervening in the functioning of the market, by making commercial decisions which should be the prerogative of airlines, these price caps ended up distorting the market, having unintended consequences on both demand and supply. While various justifications have been marshalled in favour of the imposition of this policy during the pandemic, the reality is that price restrictions by the government are the norm, not the exception. Across a range of sectors, ranging from urea to medical devices, price restrictions are prevalent, despite their well-known economic consequences.

As part of the celebration of "Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav 75 years" in the presence of Hon'ble Union Minister Shri Parasottambhai Rupala, a huge national flag procession took place in Navsari Municipality area in which a large number of citizens joined.

Is the world sliding into a Chernobyl-plus nuclear disaster in Ukraine?

By Sergei Stokan

New Delhi, Aug 13: Tensions around the Zaporozhye nuclear power plant in Ukraine reached a climax by the weekend, after three more missiles hit the territory where the nuclear waste storage facility is located.

As stated by the head of the pro-Russian military-civil administration of the Zaporozhye region Yevgeny Balitsky, the concrete protection of the storage still withstands the blows. But the situation may change at any minute.

"We find hits 300 meters from the nuclear power plant; we find almost hit shells 20 meters from the nuclear waste storage facility. If they get into a concrete storage facility accurately enough, then it's scary to think. It will cause something similar to what happened in Chernobyl - there will be an outburst, it will be a 'dirty bomb'," Balitsky said.

He added that there are several thousand tonnes of nuclear waste at the station.

"We urge you, colleagues, to convey to your leaders the need to influence the Kiev regime and force it to stop reckless strikes on the Zaporozhye NPP, which actually make hostages of the inhabitants of European states. The responsibility for this lies also with you," the Russian representative added.

"The shells hit the infrastructure facilities, as well as in the area of the nuclear waste storage. While it is very difficult to break through the reactor itself, the storage may well be destroyed. Containers do not have such protection and the threat of a "dirty bomb" effect is quite real," explained Alexei Leonkov, editor of the Arsenal of the Fatherland magazine, in an exclusive interview with India Narrative.

The apocalyptic scenario of the emergence of a huge, radiation-infected dead space on the territory of several states in the heart of Europe, including the real danger of pollution of the Black Sea and the Bosphorus Strait, which may become unsuitable for navigation, ceases to look like an exotic media story and a horror story for the layman.

Despite the fact that a nuclear reactor is not a window pane capable of shattering from a small pebble thrown into it, but a monumental structure made of concrete and iron with thick walls, having several levels of protection and a large margin of safety, this circumstance should not be a cause for complacency.

The is no guarantee the HIMALs or 777 howitzers - the pride of the American defence industry supplied to Kiev will not be used to attack the facility. The Multi-Barrel rocket fire can also prove effective.

On August 7, the Ministry of Defence of Russia, stated the Zaporozhye NPP was being shelled from the settlement of Marganetch. As a result of the latest shelling, the Kakhovskaya high-voltage line, which supplies electricity to the Zaporozhye and Kherson regions, was damaged.

In connection with the missile attack at the Zaporozhye nuclear power plant, there was a voltage surge that caused smoke in the open distribution facility of the station.

According to the Russian defence ministry, fire brigades managed to eliminate the smoke. To prevent disruption of the nuclear power plant, the capacity of the fifth and sixth units was reduced to 500 megawatts.

The Russian Defence Ministry called the shelling of the Zaporozhye nuclear power plant "nuclear terrorism".

The long echo of the rocket attacks on the power plant in the city of Energodar reached Japan, where UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres visited at the end of last week, who took part in memorial events on the occasion of the 77th anniversary of the atomic bombing of the city.

"Humanity is playing with loaded weapons," Secretary General Guterres said, pointing out that at the moment "there is a rapid spread of crises with threatening nuclear overtones."

At a press conference in Tokyo, the UN Secretary General separately touched upon the situation around the Zaporozhye nuclear power plant.

"Attacks on nuclear power plants are a suicidal act. We hope that this will stop. At the same time, we want the IAEA to have access to the station. And we hope that it will be able to use its competencies," Antonio Guterres said.

It is noteworthy that in his statement, the UN Secretary General avoided the key question of who exactly is carrying out the attack.

But this issue remains at the centre of the information war between Moscow and Kiev. The piquancy of the situation, which gives it additional acuteness, is that the station itself is located in that part of the Ukrainian territory that has already de facto come under the control of the Russian temporary military-civil administration established in the areas abandoned by the retreating Ukrainian troops.

However, Ukrainian nuclear specialists are still working at the nuclear power plant, which is protected by Russian air defence systems, and it is formally managed by the Ukrainian company Energoatom.

The Russian side insists that the nuclear power plant in Energodar is being shelled by Ukrainian artillery, carrying out acts of nuclear terrorism. At regular briefings, the official representative of the Russian Ministry of Defence, General Igor Konashenkov, cited numerous proofs to determine the origin of the missiles and the trajectory of their flight, which should have removed all questions and doubts that Ukraine is shelling the station.

However, the Ukrainian side insists that it is Russia that is firing at the station, which Russia itself controls. At the same time, such an interpretation does not seem at all illogical and absurd to the Ukrainian authorities.

Here's what Deputy Foreign Minister of Ukraine Mykola Tochytysky said in New York: "For the first time in history, civilian nuclear facilities have become a factor in the tactics of warfare. The aggressor State treats the nuclear power plant as an ordinary battlefield, it does not try to take care of nuclear safety at all. The Russians use Ukrainian nuclear facilities as a springboard for attacks on military and civilian facilities in Ukraine, as well as a warehouse for their ammunition."

The Ukrainian diplomat also accused the Russian side of exerting physical and psychological pressure on the Ukrainian staff of the station.

This version was actively supported by US Secretary of State Antony Blinken. "We are deeply concerned about the fact that Russia has occupied nuclear facilities in Ukraine, especially the Zap nuclear Power Plant, one of the largest in Europe," Antony Blinken said.

According to him, there is reliable information that "Russia uses the nuclear power plant as a military base to fire at Ukrainians, knowing that they will not respond to avoid a terrible accident at the nuclear power plant."

Antony Blinken described Russia's actions as "the height of irresponsibility" and stressed: "It is extremely important that the IAEA has access to the station in order to understand what is happening there and make sure that the station is operated in accordance with all necessary safety standards."

Antony Blinken is right: in fact, the moment of truth could be a visit to the Zaporozhye Nuclear power plant by experts of the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA). The desire to personally visit Energodar has been repeatedly stated by the Director General of the IAEA, who pointed out that "if something happens there, we will only have ourselves to blame."

It would seem that this is the very rare case when international inspectors should be given a green light as the occurrence of the Chernobyl plus disaster must be avoided at all costs.

After all, radiation will kill everyone, regardless of political views and attitude to the Ukrainian conflict.

However, the IAEA experts still do not go to Energodar and are unlikely to be there. Why? The answer is given by Raphael Grossi himself. "Sending there is a difficult thing. This is Ukraine and a Ukrainian facility, and such a visit requires the consent and assistance of the Ukrainian authorities."

Thus, Ukraine does not want any inspections in Energodar, by the way, suspecting the head of the IAEA that he is playing along with Russia. The fact that Kiev is against such a trip of the IAEA inspectors has been openly stated more than once or twice by the head of the Ukrainian Energoatom, Pyotr Kotin.

However, why should Ukraine oppose the visit?

It is very symbolic that the authorities of that part of the Zaporozhye region, which is already controlled by Russia, signed an order on August 8 to hold a referendum on joining Russia.

It is very likely that the referendum will be held in early September. President Zelensky is inevitably losing the country. Apparently, Kiev understands this, although they don't say it out loud - so that Western partners and sponsors don't hear it.

They should be sentenced to a slow execution -- by radiation. Let the Chernobyl accident seem like a good fairy tale to them against the background of Chernobyl plus. And Russia will receive as a reward from the dying Ukraine a huge infected territory, the restoration of which will require decades and hundreds of billions of dollars.

Top JeM financier using FB, Telegram, Youtube to sow hatred among Muslims in India

New Delhi, Aug 12 (IANS) Farhatullah Ghauri, a terrorist recruiter and financier for Pakistan-based terror group Jaish-e-Mohammed (JeM), has been using a network of accounts on Facebook, Telegram and YouTube to call on Muslims in India to revolt against the country, a detailed investigation by artificial intelligence (AI) startup Logically has found. Ghauri is listed among 38 individuals as a terrorist by the Ministry of Home Affairs under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, 1967 (amended in 2019). The three encrypted Telegram channels, two associated Facebook pages, and three YouTube channels, operated by the Ghauri group, were all created this year. The network was identified by Logically before it could accrue a significant audience peaking with 200-400 subscribers across all the accounts.

During the course of the investigation, the content moderation teams took down one Telegram channel and one Facebook page linked to the group.

"The terrorist propaganda has circulated across other encrypted messaging channels on Telegram, including those affiliated with Islamabad-backed proxy terror groups claiming to operate in the Kashmir region, such as the Hizbul Mujahideen (HM) and The Resistance Front (TRF)," Logically said in a statement. The company said that a closer scrutiny of the amplification patterns of the videos on Facebook since January 2022 suggests a concerted attempt by malicious actors to post the videos in Facebook groups and pages dedicated to socialism, Islam, and minority rights.

"These groups are frequented by larger, more mainstream audiences of domestic users who are critical of the BJP-ruled government," said the report. Moreover, these coordinated online campaigns coincide with offline incidents of communal violence in the country, revealing how malicious actors abroad are leveraging major social media platforms to exploit domestic tensions and radicalise the minority population.

"The terrorist propaganda amplified by these channels consists of professionally-edited videos with voice overs by Ghauri. Some of the videos engage with the rhetoric of Muslim minorities allegedly facing human rights violations by Indian security services in Jammu, Kashmir and other parts of the country," said the report. "There are explicit calls by Ghauri to Indian Muslims to revolt and take up arms against the Indian state," the report mentioned. An analysis into the spread of the videos on Facebook between January 1 and July 1, 2022, via social media analysis tool CrowdTangle, revealed that videos from Ghauri's network were amplified across several mainstream Facebook groups and pages devoted to Islam, socialism, and minority rights.

"While platform officials took down these posts, the time-stamps on the posts in these groups and the use of similarly written captions and descriptions accompanying the video suggest the presence of a copy paste campaign by a single entity," said Logically.

As with its other accounts managed by the outfit, the extremist recruitment videos amplified on the Telegram channels were also accompanied by targeted hashtags to expose the content to Indian-Muslim users frequenting the platform. Also known as Abu Sufiyan, Ghauri is originally from Kurmaguda area of Hyderabad and primarily known for being a terrorist financier. He fled to Saudi Arabia in 1994 and finally settled in Pakistan in 2015.

The report said that Pakistan-backed proxy terror groups will seek to capitalise on the clash between communal groups and these offline incidents of unrest and incorporate them into propaganda videos, then disseminate those across major social media platforms.

Credit card con: Bank loses Rs1cr to fake cos, 7 arrested

Ahmedabad : The detection of crime branch (DCB), Ahmedabad, arrested seven persons on Thursday after a case was registered against them and five others for cheating and forgery on Wednesday. The 12 accused had acquired 142 credit cards and had also installed POS machines and made credit card transactions of Rs1.14 crore in the name of firms that never existed.

Police have arrested Nikhil Patel (33), a resident of Vatva; Garuav Patel, a resident of South Bopal; Jayesh Makwana, a resident of Anand; Pratik Parmar, a resident of Khokhra; Jigar Panchal, a resident of Bopal; Chiman Dabhi, a resident of Bopal-Ghuma; and Parthkumar Patel, a resident of Bharuch in this connection.

The accused used to open salary accounts in a private bank in names of employees who did not exist and would also procure credit cards for those 'employees'. Later, they used to buy products using the cards. The accused had also acquired POS machines in different names and they used to swipe the credit cards and turn defaulters, "said a police official.

A complaint in this connection was lodged on Wednesday by Mohammed Munshi (36) a resident of Navrangpura who is working as the fraud control manager of the bank. The complainant stated that his bank opens corporate salary accounts after following a set procedure. The bank has a condition that accounts can be opened for those employees who have a minimum salary of Rs25,000.

Munshi told the police that the bank had detected the fraud by checking the credit cards issued to 'employees' of three companies who held salary accounts with the bank. He said one of the companies Medi Life Science Private Limited has its offices on Nikol abd Ashram Road, besides in Vatva, Navrangpura in Ahmedabad and Malpur in Sabarkantha. The company mentions that Nikhil Patel is its manager and Madhusudhan Patel are the directors.

Munshi said the trio gave the required documents to the bank and submitted a list of their employees with their Aadhaar and pan card details.

Initially a good amount was deposited in the 165 salary accounts and later the money was withdrawn. The company then applied for credit cards and 120-odd credit cards were issued. The total credit limit for all the cards was Rs 1.14 crore.

Court acquits man accused of raping fiancée

Ahmedabad : A city sessions court has acquitted a man from the charge of repeatedly raping his fiancée on the false promise of marriage after the accused established that he did not legally divorce after her first marriage.

This case involved Ashvin Patel and his family from krushnanagar area. Patel was a divorcee and was looking for another bride. In March 2018, he registered himself with a marriage bureau, where the victim, also a divorcee, had herself registered to find a suitable match. They liked each other and decided to get married. A betrothal ceremony took place on April 8, 2018.

A week later, Patel and his family stopped responding to the victim's phone calls. On April 28, 2018, she traced the family to their native village, where she was told that the marriage would not be possible because she was not legally separated from her first husband. The divorce deed was prepared and signed at a lawyer's office and this was not a valid divorce. On May 13, the woman filed a complaint of rape against Patel and of cheating and criminal intimidation against his family members because the gifts including an engagement ring, which was given to her on the day of betrothal, were taken back by the family on a false pretext.

A trial against Patel and his family was conducted at the city sessions court, where the accused maintained that since the woman had not obtained divorce legally, the marriage was refused and, therefore, a false criminal complaint was filed.

While acquitting the accused, the court said that the accused and the victim were engaged so it cannot be said that the man had no intention to marry her from the beginning or that he had made a false promise to family accepted that the refusal to marriage was due to social pressure. "At the most, accused No 1 (Patel) can be said to have committed breach of promise but undoubtedly no criminal liability can be fastened on him as there was no false promise...

Jewellery outlook bleak as gold prices rise

Ahmedabad : Just as the festive season began, the price of gold had hit Rs 54,000 per 10g.

Jewellers are concerned that demand will fall. With prices rising due to the worsening geopolitical situation and the recent duty increase, recycling of gold has already increased. With the steep climb in prices, demand is expected to weaken further.

Hareesh Acharya, director of India Bullion, and Jewellers' Association (IBJA), said, "With tensions escalating between China and Taiwan in addition to the uncertainty over the Russia-Ukraine war, gold prices have shot up. Moreover, the Union government recently increased duty on gold from 7.5% to 12.5% causing prices to rise further. As the festive season approaches, this is likely to reduce demand."

Gold import in July stood at 2.97 metric tonnes in Gujarat, down from 3.6 MT in June. Imports of the yellow metal did increase when compared to July 2021, but this is because of the low base effect. Gold procurement and demand was dramatically low in July 2021, as the market had barely begun recovering after the second wave of Covid-19.

Jewellers are concerned about demand at a time when yellow metal prices are on an upward trend.

"With a number of festive muhursats lined up, we do expect gold sales to improve compared to last year but demand will remain muted. This is because a large chunk of jewellery sales are taking place in exchange for previously bought gold. Due to inflation and weak consumer sentiment, gold demand is expected to remain low," said an Ahmedabad-based jeweller.

Jewellers also say that a lot of young buyers are shifting to 18-carat gold purchases. "Many buyers are shifting towards lower carat values and seeking better designs. This is mostly in the case of lightweight and functional jewellery where buyers seek new designs," The jeweller added.

ASL to house the projects under this platform where ASL and HCARE-3 have proposed to invest are 300 crore and Rs 600 crore respectively, stated an official release from ASL on Friday. The platform will create overall revenue potential of Rs 4,000 crore to Rs 5,000 crore, excluding reinvestment potential. getted geographies and, in turn, expected to create significant value for stakeholders," stated Kulin Lalbhai, Director, ASL.

Pune-based firm uses advanced technology to ride high on ethanol wave

Central government's push for ethanol and the sugar industry's warm welcome has seen many engineering firms too riding the wave. Pune-based Regreen Excel Private Limited is one such company which has travelled this wave which has seen them transforming themselves from a consultancy firm to a turn key operator for ethanol plants.

Sanjay Desai, chairman and managing director of the company, claimed their eMax technology has allowed them to get a price edge over other players and has ensured more projects their way.

The eMax technology results in lower consumption of energy for production of ethanol and also allows for change for feed stock.

Since 2014, the Centre has been pushing for increased ethanol blending with fuel. The government has in fact brought forward the 20 per cent blending target to 2023. Given the price advantage of production of ethanol from cane juice or sugar juice, many mills have started diverting substantial amounts of sugar production to produce the fuel additive. In 2020-21, the country had seen production of 302.2 crore litre of ethanol and the blending percentage achieved was 8.1 per cent. This push for ethanol, Desai said, has seen many of the mills going for both brown field and green field plants. Since 2016, Desai's company has commissioned 95 plants in the country.

Balrampur Chini and Ugar Sugar Works are some of the major consumers that the company has catered to. Demand, Desai says, comes from both new consumers as well as existing ones who go for expansion. "Most customers are from the private mills while some from the cooperatives also send in enquiries," Desai said. Desai said the eMax technology has allowed them to capture 50 per cent of the current ethanol set up in the country.

WHO gives new names to variants of monkeypox virus

Geneva, Aug 13 (IANS) The World Health Organisation (WHO) has announced new names for variants of the monkeypox virus that are currently in circulation. This is to avoid causing any cultural or social offence, the WHO said in a statement.

A group of global experts convened by the WHO decided on the new names, Xinhua news agency reported.

Experts will now refer to the former Congo Basin clade (group of variants) in Central Africa as Clade I, and the former West African clade as Clade II. The latter consists of two sub-clades, Clade IIa and Clade IIb, of which Clade IIb was the main group of variants circulating during the 2022 outbreak. The WHO added that the new names for the clades should be used immediately. Newly-identified viruses, related diseases, and virus variants should be given names that avoid causing offence to any cultural, social, national, regional, professional, or ethnic groups, and which minimise any negative impact on trade, travel, tourism or animal welfare, WHO said.

The monkeypox virus was named when it was first discovered in 1958. WHO officially declared late July that the current multi-country monkeypox outbreak had turned into a public health emergency of international concern. According to WHO's situation report on the monkeypox outbreak published on Wednesday, there have now been 27,814 laboratory-confirmed cases, and 11 deaths from the disease in 89 countries and regions worldwide, with Europe and the Americas being hit the hardest.

RUSHDIE ON VENTILATOR

Salman Rushdie is on a ventilator, cannot speak, and will likely lose an eye, after the novelist was stabbed up to 15 times on Friday by a suspect police identified as a man from New Jersey 'with sympathies toward Iranian government.' Rushdie's condition was updated by his agent shortly before 7 p.m. on Friday, hours after the author was repeatedly stabbed by Hadi Matar, 24, of Fairview, New Jersey, who rushed the stage as the author was about to give a lecture in western New York. He was arrested at the scene. 'The news is not good,' he said. 'Salman will likely lose one eye; the nerves in his arm were severed; and his liver was stabbed and damaged.' Rushdie, 75, who has been the subject of death threats from the Iranian regime since the late 1980s, was attacked as he was being introduced to the stage for the CHQ 2022 event in Chautauque, near Buffalo, on Friday morning. Law enforcement sources told The New York Post that an initial investigation suggests Matar is sympathetic to the Iranian regime and the Islamic Revolutionary Guard.

China sanctions Lithuanian Minister for Taiwan trip

Beijing, Aug 13 (IANS) China has sanctioned Lithuania's Deputy Minister for Transport, Agne Vaiciukeviciute over a visit to the self-governing democratic island of Taiwan.

Vaiciukeviciute had trampled on the "one-China principle", seriously interfered in Beijing's internal affairs and undermined the country's sovereignty and territorial integrity, dpa news agency quoted the Chinese Foreign Ministry as saying on Friday.

It did not say what the sanctions were in detail but it did say all forms of exchanges with the Lithuanian Ministry of Transport and Communications would also be suspended.

Despite the current tensions, Vaiciukeviciute arrived in Taipei on August 7 for a visit.

In response to a visit to Taiwan by Speaker of the US House of Representatives Nancy Pelosi, China has been conducting large-scale military exercises around the island since last week, including practising a possible conquest.

Beijing also imposed unspecified sanctions on Pelosi "and her immediate family members".

The Chinese leadership rejects official contact by other countries with Taiwan because it regards the island as part of its territory.

On the other hand, Taiwan has long regarded itself as independent.

Tensions have also arisen between Lithuania and China in recent months.

Beijing downgraded its diplomatic relations with the Baltic EU state after it allowed Taiwan to open a representative office in the Lithuanian capital Vilnius under its own name rather than under a formula demanded by Beijing, such as Chinese Taipei or simply Taipei. --IANS

Tension between pro-government forces flares up in Yemen

Aden (Yemen), Aug 13 (IANS) Tension between units of the Yemeni government forces flared up as the newly-formed Presidential Leadership Council (PLC) insisted on removing rebellious security officers from their positions in the oil-rich province of Shabwa, an official told Xinhua.

According to a local Yemeni official, who requested anonymity, "military leaders affiliated with the Muslim Brotherhood-affiliated Islah party mobilised their units in the neighbouring province of Marib and began advancing towards Shabwa that witnessed deadly fighting during the past days."

He clarified that "areas near Shabwa's borders are still witnessing sporadic fighting as the Islah party insists on capturing the authority in Shabwa from the other rival forces".

Earlier on Friday, the Islah party issued a statement, threatening to withdraw its representatives from the PLC as well as the government in protest against the latest events in Shabwa, Xinhua news agency reported.

Another official of Shabwa's local government told Xinhua anonymously that "the country's Defence and Interior Ministers, respectively are still attempting to convince the rebellious officers to stand aside and hand over their armoured vehicles and heavy weapons to the new leaders appointed by the PLC." But the Islah's statement aborted the efforts that are being exerted by the Yemeni Ministers which aimed at normalising the situation on-ground and ending the deadly infighting between the pro-government forces," he said.

On Monday, the PLC appointed new leaders to lead the special security units linked to the Islah party, triggering deadly street fighting between rival security units in Ataq, the provincial capital of Shabwa.

On Wednesday, the Shabwa Governor ordered the southern Giants Brigades troops to carry out a military operation to crack down on the rebellious troops and secure the local state facilities in the province.

AUC chief condemns recent violent protests in Sierra Leone

Addis Ababa, Aug 13 (IANS) The Chairperson of the African Union (AU) Commission, Moussa Faki Mahamat has condemned the recent acts of violent protests in Sierra Leone.

The AU Commission chairperson expresses "deep concern over the violent protests in Sierra Leone on August 10, 2022, which resulted in loss of life and the destruction of property," said an AU statement issued on late Thursday.

Faki condemned the acts of violence as he urged all stakeholders to refrain from further violence and engage in constructive dialogue within the parameters of the democratic process to maintain the stability that Sierra Leone has enjoyed since the end of the civil war in 2002. He reaffirmed the pan-African bloc's commitment to accompanying the government and people of Sierra Leone in the restoration of normalcy, Xinhua news agency reported.

On Wednesday, thousands of protesters took to the streets of Freetown, the capital of Sierra Leone, and some other parts of the country, calling on the government to grapple with the issue of the economic hardship and high cost of living. The protest disrupted businesses with shops remaining closed across the national capital for fear of being attacked by protesters.

A statement issued by the Sierra Leone police said on Thursday that four police officers were killed in Wednesday's nationwide protest, while 113 protesters were arrested by the police.

Zelensky proposes extending martial law, general mobilisation

Kiev, Aug 13 (IANS) Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky has proposed to Parliament to prolong the current martial law and general mobilisation in the war-torn country for another 90 days. Two separate drafts on extending the martial law and general mobilisation have been submitted to Parliament for consideration, Xinhua news agency reported. The Ukrainian Parliament imposed a martial law after the start of the ongoing war with Russia on February 24 and has extended it three times since then.

The general mobilisation of the population was introduced in Ukraine on February 24 and was prolonged in May for another three months.

The laws on the martial law and general mobilization in Ukraine are due to expire on August 23.

Former Chelsea owner Roman Abramovich moved his fleet of superyachts to Turkish waters in an effort to avoid western sanctions targeting those close to Vladimir Putin's regime. The Eclipse usually spends much of the winter in the Caribbean where Abramovich has a 70 acre beachside estate on the billionaire playground island of St Barts. But it left St Maarten, around 20 miles from St Barts, on February 21 as Putin gathered his forces to invade Ukraine. It went through the Straits of Gibraltar nine-days-ago - just two miles outside British territorial waters - and studiously avoided the waters of EU countries as it continued sailing east.

Myanmar to hold tourism exhibition to revitalise pandemic-hit industry

Yangon, Aug 13 (IANS) Myanmar will hold its seventh tourism exhibition in its commercial city of Yangon in September, in an effort to revitalise its pandemic-hit tourism industry.

The travel fair is aimed at stimulating the tourism industry as visas are being reissued in other countries, Naung Naung Han, Chair of Myanmar Tourism Entrepreneurs Association (MTEA), told Xinhua on Friday.

"After 2019 tourism exhibition, any event hasn't been organised because of Covid-19. Now in 2022, vaccination rate in the country is getting higher," said the MTEA Chair, giving the reason of reorganising the exhibition. People can get travel information during the exhibition scheduled to be held on September 17-18 in Yangon, he added.

Airlines and travel tour companies will offer travel packages of domestic tours and outbound tours with special prices at the event, he said.

Myanmar resumed the operations of international commercial flights in April, and then the number of tourists visiting the country has gradually increased, Xinhua news agency reported. Between April and June, 42,315 foreign tourists visited the country, up 22.9 per cent year-on-year, official figures showed. As of Friday, Myanmar recorded 614,335 Covid-19 infections, including 19,435 deaths and 593,081 recoveries, the Health Ministry's data showed.

Thousands rally in Budapest to protect forests

Budapest, Aug 13 (IANS) Thousands of Hungarians rallied in Budapest after the government suspended nature conservation rules, particularly those for protecting forests.

On August 4, the government decided to suspend the rules in order to speed up logging in the light of energy concerns, reports Xinhua news agency.

Protesters of all ages held up signs saying "Keep your hands off trees", "Trees save lives" and "We need trees to live". Gergely Gulyas, head of the Prime Minister's office, argued last week that the government's goal was that no Hungarian household should have to deal with a lack of energy.

The question of heating is a key issue in Hungary, with gas prices expected to rise sharply in the cold months of this year due to high inflation and budgetary constraints.

The government has cut its subsidies for households consuming over the national average, so that consumption over the threshold will have to be paid at market prices, currently seven times higher than the capped prices.

WWF Hungary said the government decree, which came into effect on August 5, is seriously worrying not only nature conservation but also in terms of the sustainability of forest management. Hungary, which is largely dependent on Russian gas, declared a "state of danger" over the energy crisis triggered by the armed conflict in Ukraine.

STUART RAMSAY: Yesterday I drove past Kabul's Chaman-e-Hozori park, a playing field that lies in the shadow of Ghazi Stadium - the scene of hangings and beheadings carried out by the Taliban. They were enforcing their fanatical interpretation of Islamic religious law during the 1990s. On a hot Friday afternoon, with cricket matches taking place across its sun-scorched expanse, Chaman-e-Hozori seemed a happy place with laughing faces enjoying a game which has long been a part of national life here. But absent from view were the women.

World should not recognise Taliban: Ex-Afghan politician

Kabul, Aug 13 (IANS) One year after the Taliban took power in Afghanistan, a former Afghan politician has warned the international community against recognising the current regime in the war-torn nation.

Afghanistan is once again becoming a safe haven for terrorist militias under Taliban rule, former provincial governor Habiba Sarabi told dpa news agency.

"The world should not recognise the Taliban," she said. Sarabi, who had also served as the Education Minister under President Hamid Karzai until 2005, also points to the responsibility of the international community.

Western powers had helped warlords and other corrupt politicians in Afghanistan gain power, she asserted. Western powers had helped warlords and other corrupt politicians in Afghanistan gain power, she asserted.

However, it is precisely the high level of corruption in the ranks of the old Afghan government that experts consider to be one of the most important reasons for the collapse of the state and the army.

The Taliban took power in Afghanistan again in August 2021, 20 years after

Western troops invaded. The number of casualties in the fight against the Taliban has been high in recent years, especially among Afghan soldiers.

For many experts, however, the collapse of the Afghan state did not come as a surprise. In addition to support from regional powers, the peace treaty between the US and the Taliban in Doha 2020 also helped the militant Islamists to gain new strength. For the Afghan army, on the other hand, the peace talks were a bitter setback, Sarabi told dpa.

It was precisely at this difficult time that the withdrawal of international troops had taken place "without a clear plan and without clear responsibility".

"Afghanistan was simply put back into the hands of terrorists," the politician said. According to Sarabi, this is a development that will come back to bite the rest of the world. "If we forget Afghanistan, extremism will come knocking on our door."

Phillips smashes half-century as New Zealand thrash West Indies; clinch T20I series

Kingston (Jamaica), Aug 13 (IANS) New Zealand middle-order batter Glenn Phillips scored a quick-fire half-century, while opener Devon Conway and Daryl Mitchell made useful contributions as the visitors thrashed West Indies by 90 runs in the second T20I here to take an unassailable 2-0 lead in the series on Saturday (IST).

Phillips first reached the half-century mark off just 31 balls and finally ended up scoring 76 off just 41 balls at a strike rate of 185 as the Black Caps amassed a mammoth 215/5 in their 20 overs, with Hayden Walsh and all-rounder Jason Holder being punished for bowling wayward.

With contributions of 42 and 48 from Conway and Mitchell respectively, New Zealand crossed the 200-run mark, exceeding the 185/5 in the opening game which the visitors won by 13 runs. This was the highest total by a visiting team against the Caribbean side in T20Is.

Lewandowski and others eligible to play Barca's league opener

Barcelona, Aug 13 (IANS) Barcelona have managed to register top striker Robert Lewandowski and several other expensive summer signings ahead of their La Liga opener later on Saturday.

The league's website listed the former Bayern Munich striker as well as Andreas Christensen and Franck Kessie as registered on Friday night, meaning they are eligible to play against Rayo Vallecano, reports DPA.

According to the Mundo Deportivo, Barcelona were also able to secure a playing permit for newcomer Raphinha as well as for Ousmane Dembele and Sergi Roberto, whose contracts were renewed. Only the case of Jules Kounde is still unresolved. The players were at risk of missing the league opener because Barcelona's salary budget was not balanced within the legal frame of La Liga's financial regulations. Therefore, the club could not register new players or players who had contracts extended.

Afghanistan fight back with convincing win to keep T20I series with Ireland alive

Belfast (Ireland), Aug 13 (IANS) Ireland's middle-order batter George Dockrell struck his maiden T20I half-century but the hosts still ended up losing the third game by 22 runs as Afghanistan clawed back after two successive defeats to finally taste success in the five-match series on Saturday (IST).

The touring side's top four batters delivered to put up a strong total of 189/5, and Ireland were quickly reduced to 36/4 in their run chase.

The hosts looked down and out at 85/7 in the 13th over, but Dockrell (58 not out off 37 balls) and debutant Fionn Hand (36 off 18) kept Ireland's hopes alive with an eighth-wicket partnership worth 74 -- just six runs short of a world-record eighth wicket stand in T20I cricket, according to Cricket Ireland. In the end, though, Afghanistan held on to celebrate their first win of the series to make it 1-2 after three games.

GRAEME SOUNESS (inset): I won't be joining the love-in for Tyrone Mings (centre and left), the man Steven Gerrard (with Mings, left) has stripped of the Aston Villa captaincy in a move which, summed up in one sentence, says: 'I just don't fancy you.' Mings is 'well-loved in the dressing room', apparently. Well, when he appeared a couple of times on Zoom for shows we were doing on Sky Sports during lockdown, I thought: 'For a young man who's not achieved anything in the game you've a hell of a lot to say.' He'd been talking about how footballers were viewed as 'commodities' at the time and I asked him if he didn't think players were incredibly fortunate to be doing their job. He had an answer for me, of course, but that encounter told me a lot. Plus, why Jurgen Klopp (right) still needs to add to his Liverpool midfield.

If Kuldeep performs consistently, he can be in India's squad for ODI World Cup: Maninder

By Niharika Raina

New Delhi, Aug 13 (IANS) In IPL 2022, Kuldeep Yadav's renaissance run, bowling quicker and blooming with confidence while picking 21 wickets for Delhi Capitals was a very heartening sight. Many expected for his glittering run to continue in India's T20I series against South Africa in June.

But a hand injury kept him out of the series as well as from the trips to Ireland and England as well as the ODIs against the West Indies. He finally got a chance in the fifth T20I against the West Indies at Lauderhill, taking three scalps in a superb bowling show where spinners took all 10 wickets.

Former India left-arm spinner Maninder Singh believes Kuldeep's recent great showings have been a huge positive and if the left-arm wrist-spinner continues to put in consistent performances, he can be in India's squad for the ODI World Cup next year in the country.

"Kuldeep Yadav's performance had started to go down. But the way he made a comeback while playing for

Delhi Capitals this year, it was showing that he had worked hard. Seeing a player's expressions when on the field and body language is enough to say that the player had worked hard when coming back to playing cricket. The great performance he had for Delhi Capitals and the confidence he got from there was there to see on the field in the (recent) international cricket match (fifth T20I against West Indies). "I still think he needs to perform consistently and if he does that constantly on the field, then he can be in the ODI World Cup which will happen in India in 2023. He brings a different variety as he's a left-arm chinaman (wrist-spin) and has the knack of picking wickets when he started out in international cricket, which is very important in the middle overs to stem the run-rate of the opposition," said Maninder in an exclusive interaction with IANS organised by Sony Sports Network. Maninder further called Kuldeep's recent performances as a huge positive, especially when he had gone out of favour due to a mix of lean form and knee injury sustained while being with Kolkata Knight Riders during the second half of IPL 2021. "This is a very big positive as, according to me, the way he was fading and was not handled well, it felt as if a talented bowler could be lost. Because of this, I had made one-two comments previously that if he stays away from T20 cricket, it would be better for him. But this can't happen, you can just think about it as a lot of money is involved and a player needs money in life for security. Left-arm spin all-rounder Axar Patel, Kuldeep's team-mate in Delhi Capitals, has been in the limelight for an unbeaten 64 off 35 balls, which was also his maiden half-century in ODI cricket.

If softening of inflation continues further, then it would eventually lead Fed to taper its aggression: Sneha Poddar

By Manish M. Suvarna
Mumbai, Aug 13 (IANS) Sneha Poddar, AVP Research, Broking & Distribution, Motilal Oswal Financial Services, said if the softening of inflation continues further, then it would eventually lead to the US Federal Reserve to taper its aggression. The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) is more likely to follow the US Fed and thus would not taper its tone till it is adopted by the latter.

Here are excerpts from the interview:
Q. Do you think after US CPI inflation print which came below estimates will allow Fed to go slow on rate hike, and RBI will follow the same?

A: The US CPI inflation data for the month of July came in at 8.5 per cent, down from 9.1 per cent in June and slightly below expectation of 8.7 per cent. However the Fed officials have responded to softening inflation data by saying it doesn't change their stance towards higher interest rates, as the inflation still remains above the unacceptable levels. Since this is just first sign of inflation peaking out, and is too early to rule out subsequent high inflation data, uncertainty will loom over when the US Fed would slow down on its aggressive rate hikes. If the softening of inflation continues further, then it would eventually lead Fed to taper its aggression. The RBI is more likely to follow US Fed and thus would not taper its tone till it is adopted by US Fed.

Q. 5.40 per cent repo rate is already above pre-pandemic level, but still the RBI maintains "withdrawal of accommodation" stance. Do you think the neutral level of the repo rate is at or above 6 per cent?

A: The RBI has cumulatively hiked the policy repo rate by 140bp to 5.4 per cent in FY23 till date. It reiterated its continued focus on "withdrawal of accommodation" to contain inflation while supporting growth. However, it kept its inflation/growth forecasts unchanged at 6.7 per cent/7.2 per cent YoY, respectively, for FY23. This seems very confusing as how can the rate hikes help contain inflation without hurting growth? Further, the MPC did not sound dovish at all. There was neither a change in stance nor a relief in the RBI Governor's statement disclaiming a possible pause in rate hikes. Thus we believe that the terminal rate in this hike cycle might be at 5.75-6.0 per cent

Q. In the current market conditions, which sectors are likely to perform well from an investor returns point-of-view?

A: We believe BFSI can do well in rising interest rate scenario. On the other hand with good monsoon, upcoming festive season and softening of commodity prices, the demand both urban and rural are expected to revive and pick up and thus we are positive on Consumer, Auto and Retail. With the opening up of economy and the structural shift being witnessed in favour of the industry post Covid, QSR remains in a sweet spot. While uncertainty around quantum of interest rate hikes is likely to impact the performance of real estate stocks in the near term, longer-term thesis on revival of housing cycle remains intact. There is imminent opportunity in the domestic Hospitality industry and the expected upcycle bodes well for the sector. We are selectively looking at IT sector as valuations have become attractive for accumulation from long term perspective.

ITC launches integrated initiatives to support Har Ghar Tiranga campaign

New Delhi, Aug 13 (IANS) ITC Limited, the multi-business conglomerate with significant presence across all three sectors of the Indian economy -- agriculture, manufacturing and services, has launched a series of integrated multidimensional initiatives to celebrate 'Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav' to mark 75 years of the country's independence. ITC has also contributed to the 'Har Ghar Tiranga' campaign through a corporate film, which salutes and celebrates the glorious contributions of India's freedom fighters.

A film conceptualised by Ogilvy features children who have portrayed famous freedom fighters such as Bhagat Singh, Rani Lakshmi Bai, Lala Lajpat Rai, Ashfaqulla Khan, Chandra Shekhar Azad, and Subhas Chandra Bose, exhibiting the joy and pride of hoisting the national flag. The film also reminds every Indian to bring home the beloved Tiranga and remember the countless heroes who fought for India's independence. As part of the Har Ghar Tiranga celebrations, the company's employees and its larger eco-system such as farmers, vendors, partners, communities, and self-help groups will be taking up large-scale programs across ITC's offices, factories, hotels, FMCG outlets, distribution network, paperboards and paper mills, and agribusiness catchments across the country.

Tourism will take Kashmir to prosperity

Srinagar, Aug 13 (IANS) The Union Territory of Jammu and Kashmir is poised to become India's most prosperous and highest foreign exchange earner, if all the efforts to exploit its tourism potential proceed on time. Encouraged by unprecedented rush of tourists, the government has expanded its tourism policy not to leave out any area of seemingly least tourism importance. No visitor can contest the description of Kashmir as the paradise on earth-its tall snow-clad mountains, tall swinging chinars, birds, animals, flowers, trees laden with fruits and, above all, its tall and beautiful people endowed with talent and grace. The present government believes Kashmir has no spot, howsoever neglected hitherto, which is without tourism potential. It has earmarked four such areas for this purpose. It includes the farm sector which, perhaps, nowhere in the world is included among tourist attractions. It is a new idea which certainly will attract tourists - depends how the publicity material is designed for different target countries. Eco-tourism is another area. It is a very wide area. It will include the whole economy activity by which the Kashmiris live. The eco-tourism will show tourists their talent of carving and designing motifs on wood, woollens, carpets and warm clothes- all reflecting their inner soul. Tourists can also see that a Kashmiri is not only a talented artist but also a friendly soft-spoken, suave and persuasive salesman. The government proposes to include Wild life among tourist attractions. Also will be included tribal life. This part of life in Kashmir is seldom (or never) talked about. Tourists have shown great interest in mountain biking, para-gliding, hot-air balloon, riders, river rafting, tracking and camping. This has inspired the government to provide for more adventure tourism and equipment needed. To attract more and more tourists the government has prepared a scheme to scout for hitherto undiscovered areas of tourists interest. Tourism festivals in health resorts are among these. They have proved a great success in terms of tourist inflow from abroad and from within the country.

Srinagar, Aug 13 (IANS) The Jammu and Kashmir government on Saturday sacked four officials, including JKLF terrorist Bitta Karate's wife and the son of Syed Salahuddin, the chief commander of Hizbul Mujahideen. The action has been taken under article 311 of the Indian Constitution.

Arjmand Khan is the wife of JKLF terrorist, Bitta Karate who is facing trial for the murders of Kashmiri Pandits. Syed Abdul Mueed is the son of Hizbul Mujahideen chief, Syed Salahuddin.

Goa Forward demands probe into tur dal wastage issue

Panaji, Aug 13 (IANS) Goa Forward Party President and MLA Vijai Sardesai on Saturday demanded an independent investigation by Central agencies into the wastage of 241 tonnes of tur dal, procured by the Civil Supplies Department for public distribution during the COVID pandemic in 2020. While addressing a press conference here, Sardesai said that he has written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking an investigation and hoped that action will be initiated. "We have written a letter to Prime Minister. It is criminal wastage and hence investigation should be done."

Just for eyewash government has suspended former director of Civil Supply Sidhivinayak Naik. He has been done scapegoat in this matter without proper inquiry. Then Minister (of Civil Supplies Govind Gramde) and Chief Minister Pramod Sawant had taken the decision of tur dal procurement in a cabinet meet in 2020. The 'tur dal wastage' issue came to light recently after the government had issued an advertisement seeking bidders to dispose it. "These scams are in fact symptoms of the failure of Goa's Food and Public Distribution system certified by none other than the Government of India itself," Sardesai said. He said that as per the 'State Ranking Index for National Food Security Act' Goa was ranked last among the 20 general category States. "This report was released by the Department of Food and Public Distribution of the Ministry of Consumer Affairs and an assessment was done by the Government of India itself. "Now Pramod Sawant should stop using the 'Double Engine Sarkar' phrase in Goa as one engine at the top has exposed the 'out-of-order' engine at the State level," he said.
